Your Apartment

Heating and Air Conditioning

Central heat and air conditioning is available for your comfort. You'll find the thermostat on the wall. Please note that the heat or AC will shut off if you open the windows in order to preserve energy.

Electricity Use

All of your apartments' energy comes from electricity (hot water, heat, stove...), which can sometimes cause strain to our circuit breakers if too many appliances are on at once (especially hair dryers and straighteners). If you lose power, please have a look at the circuit breaker located by the entrance, and check the individual fuses to make sure they are all on 'on' mode turned (up). If not, switch the one(s) that are off. If the power loss is apartment wide, then check the main breaker, the smaller box with a black and red button. Push the black button all the way in to turn the power back on. If none of these solutions work, call us for assistance.

Safe

We have an easy-to-use safe box for your valuables located in the closet. To close it, dial a 4-6 digit code of your choosing and press L to lock. To unlock, just dial that same code again.

Hot Water

Please be mindful of how long you leave the hot water continuously running. Since the building provides hot water through electric boiler heaters if the hot water is left running continuously for an extended amount of time it may run out and then you'll have to wait a bit for it to warm up again.

Trash room and Recycling

If you have rubbish to dispose of, please feel free to leave your full garbage bags outside your door in the hallway, our cleaning staff will pick it up and dispose of it appropriately. Or you can bring it downstairs on the ground floor in the garbage room located to the left of the elevator.

We recycle! Thank you for separating organic waste and glass from paper, plastic and cans. The green bin is for organic waste and the yellow top bin is for recycling. Please refrain from throwing your rubbish in bins or public trash cans on the street, we appreciate your care in this matter.

General Security and Safety Advice

At the Apartment

- ❖ Please do not smoke or use candles anywhere in the building. For your safety, open flames are strictly forbidden. Smoking is strictly forbidden anywhere in the building or apartments and is subject to a daily fine of 150€
- ❖ There are fire extinguishers on each floor by the lift and in the cupboard in the kitchen entrance or closet inside your apartment. Each apartment is equipped with a smoke detector; please warn us immediately if you notice yours is not working.
- ❖ Make sure the building front door is closed as you enter and leave. Do not let people in unless you know them.

In Paris

Our neighborhood (and Paris) is generally a very safe place to walk around day or night; but as with many European capitals, there are pick pockets especially in busy tourist areas and particularly in public transportation. Be aware and keep your belongings secured at all times. Be careful if strangers approach you asking you to sign or read papers they hand to you. They are usually there to distract you.

Neighborhood Guide

Your immediate neighborhood has everything for your daily needs (grocery store, market, bank, post office...), great restaurants, parks, museums, antiques, etc. We love the small village atmosphere and hope you get to appreciate it too. Here's a glimpse of places we and previous guests think are worth a look.

Neighborhood Guide

Just a few steps away from the Louvre Museum, nestled in a quiet one way street in a mixed residential and shopping district, our buildings are surrounded by great restaurants, parks and monuments. Take a tour of the surrounding blocks:

Vendôme

Named after one of the most famous and luxurious squares in Paris, the Vendôme district is now home for the most prestigious jewelry and fashion boutiques in the city, and the largest luxury hotels such as the Ritz and Vendôme. You can enjoy all the charm of its classical architecture during a walk along the rue Saint-Honoré before being carried away by the flavors of the macarons from Ladurée tea room and its woodwork and frescoes dated from the nineteenth century.

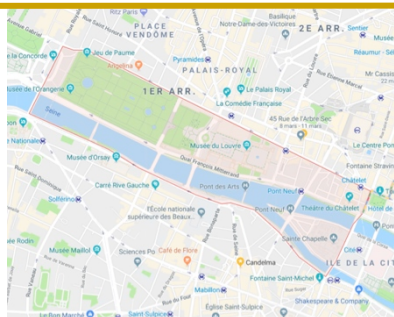

Palais-Royal

In the heart of the 1st district, the Palais-Royal district was formed for the first time during the French Revolution and is home to several tourist sites steeped in history. From the imposing building of La Comédie Française, to the “Buren columns” of the Palais-Royal and Place des Victoires. At Place des Pyramides you can contemplate Joan of Arc, bareheaded and wearing an armor. It is a vibrant neighborhood full of good gastronomic options and with a strong cultural heritage.

Saint-Germain-L'Auxerrois

Divided between the right bank of the Seine and the western portion of the Ile de la Cité, it was the first district of Paris. Its monumental buildings such as the Gothic church that lends its name to the district, the former royal residence which houses the Louvre museum or the remains of the old palace of the city (the Sainte-Chapelle and the Conciergerie), reveals to us the history of the French capital.

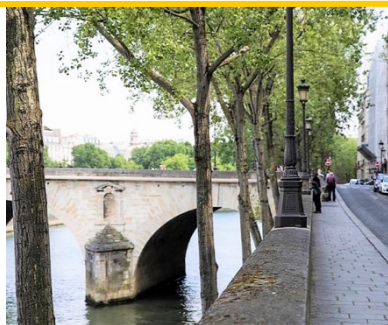

Neighborhood Guide

Just a few steps away from the Louvre Museum, nestled in a quiet one way street in a mixed residential and shopping district, our Saint-Honoré buildings are surrounded by great restaurants, parks and monuments. Take a tour of the surrounding blocks:

Île Saint-Louis

The island of Saint-Louis is, with the Ile de la Cité, one of the two natural islands of the Seine still remaining in Paris today. It takes its current name (since 1725) from King Louis IX, referred to as St. Louis. Remaining almost identical for nearly four centuries, its architecture and atmosphere of independent village transformed it into an ideal place for a stroll or picnic and to have an aperitif with your feet almost in the water.

Saint-Germain des Prés

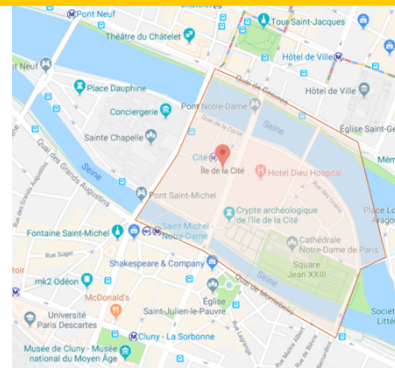

Born from a small town around the abbey of Saint Germain-des-Près in the Middle Ages, this district experienced its golden age during the post-war, thanks to emblematic characters like Jean-Paul Sartre, Simone de Beauvoir, Picasso, Jean-Luc Godard, etc. There still remains places where artists and intellectuals gathered, such as breweries Le Procope and LIPP and cafes Flore and Les Deux Magots. Festive and cosmopolitan, the Saint-Germain district maintains this nostalgic atmosphere from the beautiful Parisian era.

Île de la Cité

Considered the ancient cradle of the city of Paris, before called Lutèce, the Ile de la Cité was transformed into an administrative center during the Haussmann Era. It currently serves as the headquarters of the Préfecture of Police, the Commercial Court and the Courthouse of the capital. It is also home to the beautiful Notre-Dame Cathedral, numerous small gardens and charming squares, such as the almost "hidden" Place Dauphine, the Place Louis-Lépine and its exotic Queen-Elizabeth II flower market.
